Tony Russell describes how the sight of a tiger in Nepal — “500 kilos plus and four metres long” — will stay with him forever.

THE DAY I CAME FACE TO FACE WITH A TIGER

Last year I went to Nepal for three months to work in a hospital. I think it’s important to see as much of a country as you can, but it is difficult to travel around Nepal. The hospital let me have a few days’ holiday, so I decided to go into the jungle and asked a Nepalese guide, Kamal Rai, to go with me.

We started preparing for the trip at six in the morning, and left camp with two elephants carrying our equipment. It was hot, but Kamal made me wear shoes and trousers to protect me from snakes. In the jungle there was a lot of wildlife, but we were trying to find big cats, especially tigers. We climbed onto the elephants’ backs to get a better view, but it is unusual to find tigers in the afternoon because they sleep in the heat of the day.

Then, in the distance, we saw a tiger, and Kamal told me to be very quiet. We crept nearer and found a dead deer, still bleeding. This was the tiger’s lunch! Suddenly, I started to feel very frightened.

We heard the tiger a second before we saw it. It jumped out like a flash of lightning, five hundred kilos plus and four metres long. I looked into its eyes and face, and saw right down the animal’s throat. It grabbed Kamal’s leg between its teeth, but I managed to pull Kamal away. One of our elephants ran at the tiger and made it go back into the grass, so we quickly escaped to let the tiger eat its lunch. That night it was impossible to sleep.

ANITA RODDICK AND BODY SHOP

Anita Roddick was born in 1942 in a small town on the south coast of England called Littlehampton. Her mother and stepfather had a café in Littlehampton. Anita’s mother took over a café when her husband died and Anita had to help after school and at weekends.

Anita trained to be a teacher and then travelled round the world. She got married to Gordon Roddick in 1971 and the couple opened an international restaurant in Littlehampton.

While Gordon was abroad for two years in the 1970s, Anita opened her first Body Shop. The shop sold beauty products made from plants and flowers and has never tested its products on animals. Now there are over 1,800 shops in 49 countries.
